Justification of the Course

It is the need of time to start short term study courses in addition to the regular academic curricula for inculcation of values and for the comprehensive development of students covering intellectual, emotional aspects of the process, so as to meet the challenges posed by the 21st century. It is also recommended by the NAAC reaccreditation report 2012-2013. In pursuance of these recommendations of NAAC, our college has started a six months certificate course on Human Resource Management.

Arts and Social sciences faculties of universities and colleges world over study the course human evolutionary history, structure, philosophy and historical traditions of the social and political institutions like family and state. The Concept of Human rights got prominence in 20th Century. Especially establishment of United Nations was a landmark in the growing importance of this concept. UN has declared a charter of human rights namely UDHR. UN is also committed to establish and promote the Human rights. Constitution of India also guarantees in its preamble a number of social, political and economic rights, adding to that, chapters on fundamental rights and other provisions also reflect this commitment. The enforcement of Human Rights and challenges before it on national and international level are major contemporary issues of scholarly interest.

Objective

It is required not just to protect and promote Human Resource Management with effective enforcement of laws related human resource Management, but also to enlighten and educate the administration and citizens about Human Resource Management. Various Professional and corporate sectors have included study of the concept of Human Resource Management in their syllabuses of different exams. The concept is gaining high importance in esp. exams conducted by these Professional Sectors for the various post of corporate units. Therefore, the course has an objective of providing students a comprehensive understanding of the concept useful while preparing for this exam.

In view of all these developments the Dept. of Commerce considered it as necessary to provide an opportunity to the students to study comprehensively the subject in the college itself. In addition to develop attitude of deep study and thinking and to increase awareness about the human resource management as well as to enable them to counter the challenges before human resource management, was also an objective of the department.

1. To make the students aware about the basic concepts of Human Resource Management.
2. To increase Academic Growth.
3. To make the students aware about the importance of HR practices in real life as well as corporate life.
4. To provide professional skills.
5. To provide employability skills.

Qualification Necessary for the Course:

At least a Degree of a recognized university from any stream.

The Course Structure is as follows:

Duration of the Course: 3 months

Total teaching/ contact hours: 60

Registration Procedure:

Admissions will be conducted to the course on the 'first come first serve' basis for a limited number of seats available. Currently the intake capacity for the course is 25.
